Joseph Eimandoust	Irving, TX	2020-05-20	"How does tearing down General Robert E. Lee's statue make the world a better place in 2020? He believed in God, fought for his home state against federal government tyranny, corruption, & abuse of power against law abiding citizens. This pathetic rubber legged governor, is betraying his own race and heritage. If this must be done, then the only respectable thing they should do after Lee is torn down, is put up a statue of U.S. Grant, whom Lee surrendered to."

Linda Gordon	Greenbackville, VA	2020-09-09	"How dare Governor Northam take it upon himself to erase Virginia's history and disgrace our most distinguished Son's valor and fidelity to his beloved Virginia. History can only be legitimate when recorded accurately and factually exposing the good, bad, beautiful, and even the ugly. I was born and reared in Williamsburg Virginia where the motto of C.W. Is "That the future may learn from the past". We must not yield to those who would rob us of our memories. It's a shame that we have a Governor who cares more about credibility with Leftist and self-professed Marxists than in preserving the history of Virginia. Northam's disgusting positions on life and those we have felt worthy of memorials is deserving of removal from office. He has violated his oath of office."
donovyn avila	west orange, TX	2020-09-19	"Because I recognize the sacrifice Robert E Lee made fighting for the Confederacy more to where his hometown lied within the territory. and even after taking the loss at the end the dignity he had maintained with meeting with Ulyssis S Grant and President Lincon for the war to keep the Union Together and To acknowlede State Rights which led to our current day Circulation of military Guardsmen and military nationalism."
