This unjust is as significant in my opinion as African American slavery. The Native American Indians need recognition and I support the Pocahontas nomination. |

She helped the people of her tribe and the settlers each have something that the others provided which was a win for each of them. She gave the settlers some of their crops in exchange for their prisoners from their tribe being held there. I think the statue should be placed there because, if it wasn't for Pocahontas the settlers would have died and we wouldn't be living in the place we now call home. |

In all truth, I believe Pocahontas did just that. She was a strong pillar for many, even of those who didn't know her. This is the kind of change that is necessary in the United States. Pocahontas, throughout her life, continuously proved that females are not property. She showed in numerous ways that females can help without hindering. This goes to say Princess Matoaka truly deserves to be remembered. Therefore, I support the nomination of Pocahontas as a replacement for the General E. Lee statue. |

- From a young age I was taught that you should always fight for what you believe in. In all truth, I believe Pocahontas did just that. She was a strong pillar for many, even of those who didn't know her. This is the kind of change that is necessary in the United States. Pocahontas, throughout her life, continuously proved that females are not property. She showed in numerous ways that females can help without hindering. This goes to say Princess Matoaka truly deserves to be remembered. Therefore, I support the nomination of Pocahontas as a replacement for the General E. Lee statue.
- She was a strong independent leader and daughter of a chief. She helped the people of her tribe and the settlers each have something that the others provided which was a win for each of them. She gave the settlers some of their crops in exchange for their prisoners from their tribe being held there. I think the statue should be placed there because, if it wasn't for Pocahontas the settlers would have died and we wouldn't be living in the place we now call home.
- As a retired teacher in Tennessee, I feel that more attention needs to be brought to the foundation of our country. When I think of our beginning and the state of Virginia, Pocahontas is the face I see. She accomplished so much in her short life, and her story is one that every child in America needs to know. I appreciate her accomplishments and I can't imagine a better role model for today's young people.
- The Native Americans were the 1st race of color that inhabited the United States and over time were not recognized for their contributions and were treated unfairly over the years having their land taken away and many forced to move westward. This unjust is as significant in my opinion as African American slavery. The Native American Indians need recognition and I support the Pocahontas nomination.
- She is a reminder of a time that people had to work together across racial divides to survive: both the good and the bad. Most of all, her career as a cultural ambassador is an example of how we should all act to achieve greater unity and prosperity for all.
- I have friends in Gravesend, Kent, England because of Pocahontas. I have visited the church where she is buried and have made friends as a result. Because of her my British friends and I visit back and forth thereby creating international friendships.
- Native Americans generally lack recognition on a national scale. Being recognized would acknowledge their existence to our land as original inhabitants. It is typical of how forgotten the Native Americans are for their contribution to our existence.
- As long as history is completely and accurately represented I support this. Please make sure the statue is not the Disney version, any statue should represent true Native American physical features and clothing.
- Well i believe that Pocahontas is our country founding mother she gave the settlers things they need to start the colonies and she gave the settlers the way the Indians where doing things to survive.

- symbols of oppression and those who supported it should not be shown in a way that praises them, we instead need to support those who fought against oppression and stood for diversity and inclusion
- As a 35+ year resident of Gloucester County it would be grand to see Pocahontas and the Powhatan people be granted recognition for the role they played in the beginnings of our nation.
- Pocahontas is an important part of history. Her and her people need more recognition, people barely even know what tribe she is from. I feel like this statue will educate people more.
- Pocahontas is an important historical figure, and if anyone should replace Robert E. Lee it should be her. She was an important part of the history of the United States.
- Key historical figure in colonization of the United States
- She is important in supporting the rights of women everywhere. She also represents Native Americans who generally lack recognition.
- We need to raise the awareness of the Native American sacrifices and contributions made on behalf of the founding of our beloved republic.
- I think I should support Pocahontas nomination because she was one of the most important women in our history and she had the right to be supported.
- Virginia has a long history of suppression of indigenous peoples rights and recognition. Their recognition in public spaces is long overdue.
- Pocahontas was leveraged to serve her father and the New America. She deserves recognition as Virginia's Founding Mother.
- As a Virginian I believe Pocahontas should represent us as a woman and an Indigenous person of color. RE Lee was a traitor to his Army oath.
- She was a guide for Lewis and Clark to show them our future of the US. If not for her I do not think Lewis or Clark could not have attained this.
- She was raised in VA before other English girls so she should be honored as a famous VA woman both here and of England.
- As a Native American, I support anything that helps to give a voice and raise to those who have often gone unheard or have been historically oppressed.
- I think we live in a place full of history and one of our history's past is the history of Pocahontas and we should keep our history for our state of Virginia.
- It just makes sense. Pocahontas's statue belongs there.
- because it's very sick and deserves to be up there c:
- She was just as important as any civil war general
- Pocahontas is the best nominee for the citizens of both the Commonwealth of Virginia and the United States of America

- Pocahontas represents a valuable piece of our history and brings necessary diversity to tell the story of others.
- I support her as a founding figure, founding mother and representative of the tie between the Indians and English
- As a Richmond resident it would be really neat to show this statue in our capitol to local friends and visitors.
- It is especially important to honor the indigenous peoples who lived here long before European settlers arrived.
- Native Americans deserve more recognition and deserve acknowledgement of the influence they've had on America.
- I am supporting the Pocahontas nomination because Robert E Lee is a confederate and confederates were racist
- I am a direct descendant of Pocahontas and would be ecstatic to see her legacy honored in this way.
- My family is from her home area of Gloucester and we are descendant from her tribe.
- My grandmother is Native American and I think Native Americans should be honored.
- I believe that Pocahontas is a good leadership figure and is a good choice.
- Pocahontas was an influential female in the early history of our country!
- Participated in and inspired by 2017 Pocahontas 400 project in Gravesham
- She is part of our history. We should not take that away from anybody.
- Pocahontas was the first Native American Ambassador of the 13 Colonies
- Her story and life represents a melding of peoples and a shared world.
- I think it is finally time racists were replaced by Native Americans.
- The more Native recognition, the better. Recognition is the minimum.
- Well I would rather have Pocahontas there instead of a confederate.
- She was brave to help strangers in a new world but her home of VA.
- Great example of Native American who helped people and strangers.
- Because Pocahontas was born here and lived here for a long time.
- I cannot think of a better candidate to replace the Lee statue.
- She played a big part in this county's start with the pilgrims.
- We need representation outside of the white male perspective.
- its good because if the old one broke we would not fix it

- I think that Pocahontas needs more recognition in America
- It's just the right and historical thing to do!!!!!!!!!!
- They farm they fish and there really good hunters 😊👍
- The Native Americans were one of the first landowners
- She was a significant person in Virginia's history.
- We should have more history statues in the capital.
- I live in Gloucester and Pocahontas lived here too.
- Because women are an important part of history.
- Pocahontas is a very important part in history.
- She was a brave woman and nice to all people.
- Helps students learn more about our history.
- its cool i love the movie she special woman
- love the native american representation :)
- fuck the Confederacy and fuck Robert E Lee
- I believe this is very appropriate
- She is my 14th great grandmother
- I am a descendant of Pocahontas.
- we love our Pocahontas statue
- Because Pocahontas is awesome
- Pocahontas is from my county.
- I think she deserves it
- Pocahontas descendant
- its part of history
- I just support it
- It's about time.
- PogU Pocahontas
- Representation.
- It is history
- History

In July 2020, the Commission for Historical Statues in the United States Capitol unanimously recommended that the statue of General Robert E. Lee, currently located in the National Statuary Hall Collection at the United States Capitol, be replaced.

<https://www.dhr.virginia.gov/uscapitolcommission/>

The Commission invited recommendations for a replacement statue, of a prominent Virginia citizen of historic renown, or renowned for distinguished civil or military service, to be made to the Virginia General Assembly for commemoration in the National Statuary Hall Collection. This official recommendation period concluded on 11/27/20; however, your feedback still counts!

The Pocahontas Project recommends that the Commonwealth of Virginia replace the statue of Robert E. Lee in the US Capitol with a statue of the woman born Matoaka, who died Rebecca, and who was most famously known as Pocahontas.

The Project suggests that Pocahontas should be considered "America's Founding Mother" because her actions facilitated and enabled a series of events that led to the development of the original Thirteen Colonies and, ultimately, the United States of America.

<https://www.pocahontasproject.org/>

The Project further suggests that Pocahontas' religious conversion and marriage to John Rolfe brought an important time of peace between the Powhatan People and the English, and that her subsequent journey to England hardened British resolve to continue its support of the Virginia Company and begin other efforts directed at colonizing America.

The Pocahontas Project believes that Pocahontas is worthy of a statue in the United States Capitol. The newly-formed Thirteen Colonies ultimately embraced the Powhatans' model of representative government and the concept of freedom to rule. The Powhatan People, and especially Pocahontas, played an important early role in the development of the new American nation by teaching John Rolfe how to grow tobacco and draft the seeds he took from the island with the wild Virginia tobacco, giving the English settlers a cash crop needed for survival.

The Project believes that without Pocahontas' hopeful and purposeful action, no individual currently recognized in the U.S. Capitol would have achieved their place in history. The Project believes it is appropriate that the two statues in the United States Capitol, from the Commonwealth of Virginia, represent (1) George Washington, one of America's Founding Fathers; and (2) Pocahontas, one of America's Founding Mothers.
