Narrative Description:

In the space below, briefly describe the general characteristics of the entire property, such as its current use (and historic use if different), as well as the primary building or structure on the property (such as a house, store, mill, factory, depot, bridge, etc.). Include the architectural style, materials and method(s) of construction, physical appearance and condition (exterior and interior), and any additions, remodelings, or other alterations.

The Union Baptist Church, located in the Davisville area of the City of Hopewell, was built in 1947. The original rectangular plan building is concrete block wall construction with a wood frame, asphalt shingle clad, front gable, roof. The concrete block has been covering in composite EIFS cladding. The primary elevation features a three-story square-in-plan bell tower. The primary three-bay elevation is symmetrical with the tower centered on the gable and a Gothic style window on either side. The bell tower has an open first level that is topped by a slightly rounded Gothic arch. Each of the three levels on the tower is defined by a simple horizontal molding band. The second and third tower levels feature large rectangular vents (for allowing sound to project from the tower). The tower is capped with a hipped roof with a gold-colored cross at the apex.

The north wall of the church has seven bays defined by Gothic style windows. All of the Gothic style windows feature color glass. All of the windows feature the same design; a combination of three Gothic arches (possibly referring to the holy trinity) with an inset cross. The glass features pink, white, green, black and red colors.

The southeast corner of the church has a two-story addition that was built in 1975. The addition is rectangular in plan with a gable roof that intersects the church roof at a right angle. The roof is clad in asphalt shingle. The addition walls are likely frame, now clad in EIFS. There is a primary entrance, sheltered by a one bay portico, facing Harris Street. The windows are very simple, two pane, single sheet set in aluminum, horizontal sliding operation.

The southern side of the 1947 original section features two exposed Gothic Style windows and some that still show inside the 1975 addition interior. The south wall of the addition features three windows on the first floor and four on the second floor. The rear, or east, wall of the church features a two-story fire escape and two separate rear doors for the 1975 and 1947 sections.

The interior of the 1947 section has three primary spaces. At the entrance, there is a short hall that is flanked by two rooms. The rooms are sitting areas for private meetings or waiting areas. The short hallway is closed to the Nave by a set of translucent French doors. The nave has a center aisle with about 10-15 rows of wooden pews on each side. The room has wainscoting and simple trim around doors and windows. The chancel area is on a slightly raised dais and features an area for musicians, a seating area for a chorus and the Pastor's lectern. The rear wall of the chancel features a decorative round color glass window.

Most of the interior of the 1947 section appears to date to the 1960 and 1970s, and later, but the stained glass windows date to the 1950s and some of sections of trim may date to the 1940s.

The interior of the 1975 addition features a large hall on the first floor with an adjacent kitchen and rest rooms. The stair circulation to the second floor is at the front of the building adjoining a small entrance hall. The upstairs has a center hall circulation that terminates into a general use room. There are administrative offices and the Pastor's office is a small suite with office and adjoining conference room.

The north wall of the 1947 section has a builder's date stone, at the lower northwest corner. The stone reads:
"Union Baptist Church Erected 1947 G.W. King D.D."

The yard in front of the 1975 addition features a permanent masonry signboard with stepped shoulders.

Briefly describe any outbuildings or secondary resources (such as barns, sheds, dam and mill pond, storage tanks, scales, railroad spurs, etc.), including their condition and their estimated construction dates.

There are two modern (non-contributing) sheds at the rear, east side, of the church, one is of metal construction and the other is wood frame.

4. Property's History and Significance

In the space below, briefly describe the history of the property, such as significant events, persons, and/or families associated with the property. Please list all sources of information used to research the history of the property. (It is not necessary to attach lengthy articles or family genealogies to this form.)

If the property is important for its architecture, engineering, landscape architecture, or other aspects of design, please include a brief explanation of this aspect.

Significance Overview

The Union Baptist Church was the home institution for Civic and Civil Rights leader Reverend Dr. Curtis West Harris for forty six years. He was ordained in the church in 1959 and became Pastor in 1961. Union Baptist Church traces its history back to 1917 in the area of Hopewell called Georgia Hill. The congregation moved to the current building in 1947. The church has been updated several times over the past sixty years by the intentions of Reverend Harris to improve the building and grow the congregation. The Union Baptist Church is being nominated under Criterion B for the significance of Dr. Curtis West Harris. While Rev. Harris also served congregations in Bermuda Hundred and Ivor, Union Baptist Church was always considered his primary pastorate. Reverend Harris' career in politics and social activism places him at a level of state significance. The suggested period of significance is 1956, when Reverend Harris was licensed as a minister at Union Baptist Church, by Dr. G. W. King, Pastor to 1998, when he was sworn in as the first African American Mayor of Hopewell. He retired from his Pastorate at Union Baptist Church in 2007. The Criterion Consideration G is met by the continuity of significant accomplishments that extend well past the fifty year cut off mark of 1968.

Union Baptist Church History Overview

Based on a published history by Deacon Emeritus James Patterson, Sr.

Union Baptist Church was founded in 1917 during the era of rapid development in the City of Hopewell. In 1914, the Dupont Corporation had located a large plant on Hopewell Farm (a section of Prince George County), adjacent to City Point. The City was incorporated in 1914. The original frame church stood at Kippax Street and Kippax Place. The frame building could accommodate 500 people and was heated by one centrally positioned pot belly stove.

Reverend J.R. Coleman served as the first pastor and was followed by Rev. A.J. Ryans, Rev. Walter Turner, Rev. W.M.H Shaw, Rev. Spratley, Rev. Sam Wilson, Rev. Isaiah Wilson, Rev. J.J.E. Horne, Rev. Wilton Cook, Rev. Dr. George W. King, Rev. Dr. Curtis W. Harris, Rev. Joshua N. King, and the current Pastor Rev. Dr. Anthony L. Nutt.

The Church went through two evolutions from 1945 to 1947. The first split occurred when there was a dispute on where to build a new church. The choice was between the current site and a site on Winston Churchill Drive. A slight majority of the membership chose the Davisville site. A lawsuit ensued when the Building Committee refused to disburse the $3000 allocated for construction. The case ended up in the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals on June 18th, 1946. The court ruled that the Church had a binding contract to build on the Terminal Street site. Many officers and members left the congregation at this point. In May or June 1947, Rev. Wilton Cook left the church taking many members, leaving 35 members with Union Baptist and a debt of $10,144.24 to the contractor for building construction. Rev. George W. King assumed leadership and organized to gain membership and raise funds to retire the debt. A white congregation, the West End Presbyterian Church donated $1500 at one point. By 1956, the church had 100 members and the debt (mortgage) was retired. In 1957 a $900 gas heater would replace the stove. In 1958, the church made the first major renovation, costing $10,000. This work included the reworking of the rectangular sash into Gothic style windows and the installation of stained glass. Rev. King passed away in 1961.

Rev. King had ordained Rev. Curtis Harris at Union Baptist Church in 1956. Rev. Harris started his Pastorate at the church in 1961 (his significant accomplishments are outlined in the section below). Rev. Harris made two significant additions to the building; the G.W. King Fellowship Hall in 1975 and the 1990s renovation, which included the new bell tower. The original 1917 bell is installed in the tower. Harris would go on to be a Civil Rights activist, a City Councilor, Vice Mayor and Mayor.

After Rev. Harris and Rev. Johsua N. King, Sr., Rev. Dr. Anthony L. Nutt became the twelfth Pastor in 2014. Rev. Nutt has updated and modernized the church during his leadership. The form of the building and interior spaces are largely intact to the period when Rev. Curtis led the Church.

Reverend Dr. Curtis West Harris Significance Overview

Written by Joanne Lucas on the Curtis W. Harris web page (<http://www.curtiswharris.com/>)

Rev. Dr. Curtis West Harris was the last of six children born to the late Thelma and Sandy Harris on July 1, 1924 in Dendron, Virginia. He was raised in Hopewell, Virginia and educated in its public schools. After graduating from Carter G. Woodson High School, he continued his education at Virginia Union University in Richmond, Virginia and was eventually employed as a janitor at Allied Chemical in Hopewell. Other education experiences included obtaining a certificate in Clinical Training for Pastors from the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond, Virginia; studying at the Urban Training Center for Christian Missions in Chicago, Illinois; and completing various courses at Virginia State University in Petersburg, Virginia. Dr. Harris also received an Honorary Doctor of Divinity degree in 1972 and an Honorary Doctor of Law degree in 1983 from the Virginia University of Lynchburg in Lynchburg, Virginia.

Although Dr. Harris' childhood was spent in poverty, he was taught early in life, the value of sharing with the less fortunate. This sharing factor and the selflessness exemplified by his mother were pivotal to his entry into the ministry and to the role he selected to play in the protection of human rights.

In 1959, the late Dr. George W. King and Union Baptist Church in Hopewell ordained Dr. Harris into the ministry. He began his spiritual call at First Baptist Church, Bermuda Hundred in Chesterfield, Virginia where he was pastor for ten years. He also led the congregation at Gilfield Baptist Church, Ivor, Virginia for 33 years; and preached his last sermon as pastor of Union Baptist on Sunday, December 16, 2007 after 46 years as pastor.

Strong social, political, and religious consciousness led Dr. Harris to affiliate with and hold office in the following organizations: Hopewell Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), President; Carter G. Woodson Parent-Teacher Association (PTA), President; Hopewell Ministerial Association, Secretary/President; Hopewell Improvement Association (HIA), Vice President/President; National Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), Board of Directors/Vice President; Virginia State Unit of SCLC, President; Moses Life Insurance Association, President; Shiloh Lodge #33 of Virginia Free & Accepted Masons, Inc. (Prince Hall Affiliated), Past Worshipful Master; Union Baptist Sunday School, Teacher/Superintendent; Lily of the Valley Chapter #44 (Order of Eastern Star), Past Worthy Patron; Virginia State Advisory Committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, Vice Chairman; Bethany Baptist Association and Allied Bodies, Moderator/Executive Director; Virginia State University Non-Boarding Students, Counselor; Virginia Council on Human Relations, Director; Hopewell City Council, Councilman/Vice Mayor/Mayor, and The National Movement for Civil and Human Rights, Board of Directors.

The civil rights work of Dr. Harris began as early as 1950 when he was elected president of the Hopewell chapter of the NAACP. Ten years later, he was arrested and sentenced to 60 days in jail for his role in a sit-in at a segregated drugstore in Hopewell. In 1961, he became a member of the National SCLC Board of Directors, joined forces with the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and accepted nonviolence as the most practical means to fight racial and social injustice. He was arrested 13 times for acts of civil disobedience during his civil rights career.

Dr. Harris was cited for contempt by the Boatwright Committee of the Virginia General Assembly and accompanied to his trial by Dr. King in 1962. He witnessed the "I Have a Dream" speech at the 1963 March on Washington for Freedom and Jobs, marched 50 miles from Selma to Montgomery to secure voting rights for Blacks in 1965, assisted in the coordination of the Poor People's Campaign in 1968, and beaten in Suffolk, VA during a peaceful protest in 1969. He was still battling in the war against injustice when he filed a discrimination complaint against Fort Lee, Virginia in 1996; and at the age of 83, Dr. Harris took to the streets in demonstration against the Hopewell City Council's proposal to build an ethanol plant in 2007.

By the 1960's, Dr. Harris had also taken an interest in local politics and ran seven times, unsuccessfully, for a seat on the Hopewell City Council. Finally, in 1983, he forced the city to switch from its longstanding at-large system to a ward system and became the second African American elected to the council. He became the city's second African American vice-mayor in 1996 and was sworn in as Hopewell's first African American mayor in 1998. On March 1, 2012, after 26 years of service to the city and to his constituents in Ward 2, Dr. Harris retired from his seat on the Hopewell City Council.

Ruth Jones Harris, his loving wife of 65 years, passed away on May 22, 2011. The Harris Connection, as Dr. Harris' family fondly calls itself, includes six children--Curtis, Jr. (Fayetteville, GA), Kenneth (Hopewell, VA), Michael (Ft. Washington, MD), Joanne (Virginia Beach, VA), Karen (Fayetteville, GA), and Michelle (Waldorf, MD) as well as three daughters-in-law, one son-in-law, 23 grandchildren, 32 great grandchildren, and three great-great grandchildren.

Dr. Harris, 93, died on Sunday, December 10, 2017, at 11:06 p.m. at The Crossings at Ironbridge in Chester, VA. On Saturday, December 16, 2017, he laid in repose at Carter G. Woodson Middle School in Hopewell, in front of the library named for him. Dr. Harris' life was honored in a homegoing service at First Baptist Church, Hopewell on Monday, December 18, 2017. Chaplain (COL) James Palmer, Jr. officiated and delivered a moving eulogy; the music was rendered by the Union Baptist Church Choir, Hopewell; his daughter, Mrs. Karen Bradford, sang a spectacular rendition of Dr. Harris' favorite Negro spiritual, "If I Can Help Somebody;" acknowledgements were expressed by Rev. W. Darrell Boggs, Mr. Jerrail Brown, Bishop Tyrone Harper, Mrs. Jackie Shornak, Senator Rosalyn Dance, Rev. William Keen, Rev. Dr. Ruby Moone, Lt. Col. R. Michelle Pritchett (daughter), and Dr. Joanne Lucas (daughter); and the video tribute, "Curtis Harris: A Man About Town" was shown. The service was concluded with Dr. Harris' casket being gently lifted onto a horse-driven, uncovered hearse and his funeral procession making a trek down Route 10 in Hopewell to 209 Rev. C. W. Harris Street where Dr. Harris resided for more than 60 years. His final resting place is at Appomattox Cemetery on 703 N. 21st Avenue in Hopewell.

Curtis Harris was deliberate, yet courageous in his life choices with a keen awareness of man's imperfections. The war-torn veteran of Christian stewardship and social justice can be described as one who possessed an open heart that was touched by the needs of all humanity. His tireless effort, humanitarian spirit, and unwavering determination are captured in the lyrics of his favorite Negro spiritual: "If I can help somebody as I pass along; if I can cheer somebody with a word or a song. If I can show somebody they're traveling wrong; then my living shall not be in vain."
